

FCC Commissioners
The Federal Communications Commission RE: Docket 04-435
445 12th Street, SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners ,

Please do not change the rules to make it okay to use cell phones in flight.

Are you so certain that in crucial but rare instances it will not endanger communications and navigations instruments?

Flying is nerve-wracking enough already. I think I will go mad if everyone starts using their cell-phones on board. I already hate flying. This will put the cap on it.

I also think it will lead to conflict between passengers. Such usage in confined quarters is often done in a rude manner for no good reason other than to chat and demonstrate how "cool" the cell phone user is. What happens if I suddenly lose my patience and snippily request that such boors discontinue their rudeness?

Please leave the current rules in effect. We are already beginning to resemble a country full of mental hospital releasees going around talking to themselves. I do not think letting such invasion of my privacy and right to a serene environment is worth it. I REALLY REALLY hate this idea.

Sincerely,

Sharon King
